

Need Professional Help?

We're pleased to share Vendors names and phones numbers with you - vendors with whom we've had a relationship with over the years. However, Punta Rassa is not responsible for the workmanship, materials, or business practices of any vendor that you may personally contract with.

For your protection, use only licensed contractors for that trade, and make sure the contractor has liability, and workers compensation insurance. Always ask to see their license to work, and insurance before they start working. If they do not have a license and insurance and get hurt or cause damage to other properties, you can be held liable.
